ABSTRACT

Sales information system is an information systems that provide information from several process of covering checking stock, sales, making note, monitoring revenue every days until each month, and creating registry report. The purpose of making their final project is making information systems sales glassware at the Yani's Sundries Store. The application was done by mean of data collection with the listen to customers, designing and making the prototype, and test drive a mock-up or test program. Making application program developed by Visual Studio and Database Mysql used. Making information systems sales glassware at the Yani's Sundries Store has been completed by features checking stock, sales, making note, monitoring revenue every days until each month, and creating registry report.

Keywords: Monitoring revenue, test drive mock-up