ABSTRACT

The purpose of this research is to describe the harmonization between village government, the community, and the private sector in achieving good village governance. To create effective good village governance, harmonization and participation from all parties involved in the village, including village officials, the community, and the private sector, are required. This research is categorized as qualitative research. The types of data in this study include primary and secondary data. The results of this study indicate that Triwungan Village has implemented the principles of accountability and transparency in village financial management. Community participation is actively seen in various stages of management, from planning to execution, and the private sector participates in Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) programs. Overall, Triwungan Village has successfully built harmony and synergy among various parties to achieve good village governance. In this regard, it can serve as an example for other villages in enhancing accountability, transparency, and community participation in village financial management, as well as building mutually beneficial partnerships with the private sector.
