English Tutorial Video of How to Become a Good Storyteller in Genre Story of Legend for College Student of UKM's English Club is my Final Project. The basic reason why the writer chose this project was based on the observation in storytelling division of UKM's English club at State Polytechnic of Jember. The writer found that the students through the difficulties in learning storytelling because the limitation of learning media. This project focused on developing a learning media for member of storytelling division which can help the member to understand how to become a good storyteller clearly. Moreover, an aspect that makes this project attractive was a tutorial how to become a good storyteller show in audio visual CD. The product was equiped by the example of storytelling and the model which explained the step of how to become a good storyteller in order to make the members understand.The writer chooseslegend as the genre of the story entitled The Legend of Surabaya because related with the students of university. This material covered into tutorial video. So, the students could understand and know directly how to be a good storyteller easily. The writer believed this media was useful for member of storytelling division as the target.
